

After being held captive in last week's season premiere, tonight's episode finally saw Sam freed and then saw him have a long overdue reunion with his recently resurrected mother and next week, he'll join her and Dean on their first case as a family. The case in question will take the Winchester trio to an abandoned house that is leading civilians to their deaths with the sounds of a crying baby. Meanwhile, Castiel embarks on a mission to track down Lucifer and enlists the services of Crowley to lend him a hand. Check out the promo for next week's episode below:

“The Foundry” — (9:00-10:00 p.m. ET) (TV-14, LV) (HDTV) OH BABY – When a crying baby leads to death in a mysterious abandoned house, Mary (guest star Samantha Smith), Sam (Jared Padalecki) and Dean (Jensen Ackles) decide to investigate. Meanwhile, Castiel's (Misha Collins) hunt for Lucifer (guest star Rick Springfield) leads him, begrudgingly, to partner up with Crowley (Mark A. Sheppard). Robert
