

While airing the debut of Transformers: Rescue Robots last weekend, The Hub also aired the first TV promo for the second season their other Transformers show, Prime. The promo revealed that the next season premieres in February of 2012, which confirms previous reports of its beginning early in the next year. Below is the promo (uploaded by Youtube user Fanofttransformers1, and thanks to TFormers for the heads up), which features a pretty big SPOILER for those who have not been following the series, so watch at your own risk unless you've seen the last couple of episodes from Season One. Transformers: Prime Season 2 begins airing on The Hub next February. Follow @PaulRomCBM
