

Revealed from several set images, the latest footage captured from the 'New York' set of Sony's Marc Webb-directed reboot The Amazing Spider-Man further showcases use of practical effects in the Webslinger's web-swinging. With things moving in full "swing" forty seconds into the video, courtesy of uploader Ajhp23, check it out below. The Amazing Spider-Man focuses more on Peter Parker's high school days and the development of his powers while navigating the troubles of a brainy geek in high school. And starring Andrew Garfield, Emma Stone, Denis Leary, Rhys Ifans, Martin Sheen, and Sally Field, the film swings into theaters July 3, 2012 in 3D!
