

Lots of great new footage in that Japanese trailer for The Avengers, but the things that caught my eye were the shots of Hawkeye sliding along with his bow at the ready..past a couple of those mysterious aliens! Now we have glimpsed them before now - flying on their ships etc - but thsi is definitely the most detailed look we have had, albeit not head on. But you can still make out quite a bit from those side shots. Does this give us any more indication of what the heck they might be?

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=56376>