The cast for Fox's drama/horror tv show is shaping up very nicely. With Miranda Otto already cast as main character Nina Locke and Sarah Bolger as her daughter Kinsey. Nick Stahl, who many will remember from HBO's Carnivale as well as playing that yellow bastard in Sin City, has signed on as Duncan Locke, the younger brother of Nina's husband Rendell, who's murder sets the story in motion. According to Deadline.. [Locke And Key] tells the story of Nina Locke (Miranda Otto) and her three children, Tyler, Kinsey (Sarah Bolger), and Bode who, after the brutal murder of Nina's husband Rendell Locke, return to Keyhouse, his old family home in Massachusetts. There, they are pestered by an evil entity named DODGE that's determined to hold the family hostage one way or another until it gets what it wants. Stahl will play Rendell's younger brother Duncan Locke, an art teacher, who lives
