

Activision has sent the new trailer for their upcoming video game Transformers: Fall of Cybertron over to the people at Super Hero Hype. The game follows the final days of battle between the Autobots and Decepticons as they fight for the dying planet of Cybertron. Ultimately leading to what we all know now happens of the planet being rendered uninhabitable, and causing both, Autobots and Decepticons, to flee. Transformers: Fall of Cybertron is scheduled to come out, as of right now, in the Fall of 2012.
