

Moving into the new year, Sony's Mark Neveldine & Brian Taylor-duo-directed Ghost Rider: Spirit Of Vengeance sequel is roughly two months away, with mixed reviews. And now the much-anticipated sequel's official site has been launched with new wallpapers, as well a preview of the wicked soundtrack. With the site also offering downloadable animated gifs, with more content awaiting to be unlocked, click the image link below! Ghost Rider: Spirit Of Vengeance picks up where it's been several years since making a deal with the Devil and Johnny Blaze, living in self-imposed isolation, finds himself as the only person who can help save 10-year-old Danny – and ultimately the world – thanks to his unwanted and uncontrollable power – his ability to transform into the hell-on-wheels monster 'Ghost Rider'. Starring Nicolas Cage, Idris Elba, Ciarán Hinds, Christopher Lambert & Violante Placido, the film releases in 3D February 17, 2012
