

So, like any other day, I had been scrolling around the internet, when I eventually encountered this petition. For those of you not particularly link-inclined, this is a petition to bring a fanmade design by Dave Delisle of Dave's Geeky Ideas to life! Here is the design:  Pretty [frick]ing awesome, no? So I've come to you all with a very simple request: How, you ask? Well there are several: Step 1: Sign the Petition! An obvious tactic to be sure, but perhaps to get it across we need something more....but what? Step 2: Share the Petition! Via email, Twitter, etc, just spread the word around! Be sure to not forget to use CBM's very own Social Network options to spread this article around, as well! Post it on any forum that might be interested, and in every chat room that might like it! But we need something...something bigger...something to really tip the scales towards this really happening. Step 3: LET MARVEL KNOW! All
