

Over a eleven thousand of you voted which is a whopping turnout. Of that number, nearly 73% found the new trailer to be awesome. The next highest tally was for very good, with nearly 18% of the vote. Clearly the overall reaction was extremely positive, and a 9% minority either thought trailer #3 was so-so, less than average, or downright pooppy. What did I like? Bane's voice. There was a huge improvement made to the sound quality of Bane's voice. It was much clearer, I understood everything that he said. That is a huge relief because I honestly struggled to understand much of what he was saying during the prologue. I also was extremely happy to see Anne Hathaway all suited up in her Catwoman costume, and kicking some major ass. Outside of the sizzle reel we hadn't had a proper look at Hathaway's Catwoman. Also, seeing Batman's new flying vehicle soaring

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/nailbiter111/news/?a=58951>