

We all know terrible movies can still clean up at the box office, but unfortunately it works the other way too sometimes. Pete Travis' Dredd failed to make so much as a whimper on its first weekend in the US (It did take the no.1 spot in the UK however), raking in a mere $6.3 million. We all think it should have fared MUCH better, but what about you you? Vote below and sound off in the usual place..

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=67737>