

Released last Friday, Looper shot straight to the #2 spot at the box office and even managed to hit #1 in several other international territories. Earning a 'B' CinemaScore from audiences, it clearly hit the right note with many fans of the sci-fi genre, although the reaction from you guys in the three main reviews posted here on CBM were clearly a little more mixed than the 94% Rotten Tomatoes score it currently holds. Well, here's your chance to decide! Don't forget to read my 4* review of Looper by clicking HERE. In the futuristic action thriller Looper, time travel will be invented – but it will be illegal and only available on the black market. When the mob wants to get rid of someone, they will send their target 30 years into the past, where a "looper" – a hired gun, like Joe (Joseph Gordon-Levitt) – is waiting to mop up.
