

The Dark Knight Rises opened on Friday to rave reviews and very positive fan feedback to boot. But, not everyone loved Chris Nolan's final Bat-flick. Out of the few negative reviews, a handful were pretty scathing -- and if some of the comments I have seen on various different TDKR related articles are anything to go by, a few of you were very disappointed also. Of course there were those who had decided they loved/hated the movie before it was even released too, but here we want all of the feedback -- positive and negative. We've kept it simple for the poll choices, but please elaborate in the usual place.. The Dark Knight Rises is out now, and if you haven't seen it -- even if you think you're sure you won't enjoy it, I recommend you give it a go. You can check out my 5 star review here.
