

Cinemablend are citing some very reliable sources for some information on the (as yet unconfirmed) sequel to Marvel's Thor. They received word that a second film may be coming a lot sooner than we think, maybe even hitting screens the same year as Iron Man 3(2013). They also, and far more interestingly, have some info on who might be troubling The God Of Thunder the second time around. Our source tells us that while the Thor 2 project is still in very early stages and they don't expect to start actually writing the script until the end of the year, internally producers are kicking around possible villains. In contention to face off against Thor are two characters named The Enchantress and The Executioner. For those of you unfamiliar with The Executioner, here is a bit of info from Wikki.. Skurge is born in Jotunheim, and later becomes a warrior, gaining his name the Executioner
