

From Cosmicbooknews.. A press conference for The Dark Knight Rises will be held tomorrow in Pittsburgh, with Director Chris Nolan, Producer Emma Thomas, Executive Producer Kevin De La Noy and Christian Bale in attendance. Reportedly, Pittsburgh mayor, Luke Ravenstahl, and Pennsylvania governor, Tom Corbett, will be present, as well. Like I said, not much so far. It may be that very little about the actual movie will be revealed and it will just be about when and where they will be shooting and what will need to be disrupted traffic wise etc. But you never know. Worth having a gander at anyway. More details if and when we get em. By TwitterButtons.com
