

The Lone Ranger(Armie Hammer) and his trustee side kick Tonto(Johnny Depp) are heading to New Mexico next month. An official press release from the Governor of New Mexico today announced that the Gore Verbinski directed film will be in the state from February and will finish up in mid August. Filming will be held in the cities of Albuquerque, Santa Fe, and Shiprock. According to the release Disney has been working with the state for over a year to get the movie to film there. From The New Mexico Governor's Office: January 13, 2012 SANTA FE – Governor Susana Martinez and the New Mexico Film Office announced today that Walt Disney Pictures and Jerry Bruckheimer Films' The Lone Ranger, directed by Gore Verbinski and starring Johnny Depp, will begin principal photography in New Mexico in February 2012, with production planned in and around Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Shiprock and other locations around the state

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=52939&t=Press_Release_THE_LONE_RANGER_Starts_Filming_Next_Month