

Ray Winstone ("The Departed") is playing Noah's nemesis, a cult leader that opposes the creation of the Ark from the very beginning. He will even attempt to turn Noah's oldest son, Ham, against him. By the looks of those set photos below it would appear as though Noah came to blows with Ray Winstone's character. Russell Crowe probably went all Old Testament on his ass. Amen! Images Courtesy of DailyMail

NOAH is a close adaptation of the Biblical story of Noah's Ark. In a world ravaged by human sin, Noah is given a divine mission: to build an Ark to save creation from the coming flood. The screenplay was written by Darren Aronofsky and Ari Handel and revised by Academy Award®-nominated screenwriter John Logan (GLADIATOR, HUGO). Scott Franklin and Aronofsky of Protozoa Pictures, along with Mary Parent of Disruption Entertainment, will produce the film. The film will be executive produced by Ari Handel

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/nailbiter111/news/?a=69168>