

When Hugh Jackman returns for his final stint in the claws next year in James Mangold's Logan it'll be for the eighth time, which decimates the record for the most times one actor has played a superhero or comic book character on the big screen. Even those not overly fond of Fox's interpretation of The X-Men tend to admit that the Aussie star has done great things in the role of Wolverine, and will be sorry to see him go. This Logan trailer was cut together by a YouTuber named afaclair, and features various shots of Jackman in action as the mutton-chopped mutant from all of his previous appearances, right up to X-Men: Apocalypse.

Logan also stars Patrick Stewart, Richard E. Grant, Boyd Holdbrook, Stephen Merchant, Dafne Keen, Eriq La Salle, Elise Neal, and Elizabeth Rodriguez. The final Wolverine movie is set to claw its way into theaters on March 3, 2017.

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/x-men/the_wolverine/relive-hugh-jackmans-time-in-the-role-of-wolverine-with-this-a146326