

As you can see below, a huge majority of you went with the most positive option, and it continues on that way - although the jokey final one "No Rob Schneider, no blockbuster" actually picked up more votes than the previous two. But with a massive 70.98% of the votes, 1,252 of you love Dredd and think it should be doing a hell of a lot better than it is right now.. It's not too late to give the movie a bit of a life injection - if you haven't seen it, do so, and even if you have, convince a buddy or three to and join them! If any movie has some re-watch appeal it's surely the ultra-violent, action packed Dredd. We'll have a box office update over the next couple of days.

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=67904>