

That's right! Man of Steel came out miles ahead of Iron Man 3 when we asked you which of the big movie panels at this year's San Diego Comic-Con you're most looking forward to seeing. Godzilla didn't fare too badly, although the rest (including the likes of Django Unchained, The Expendables 2 and The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2) made no significant impact at all. You can check out the full list of results by clicking HERE. While some of you will be lucky enough to attend these panels in person, it doesn't matter whether or not you're going to the event as we'll be bringing you plenty updates during the weekend. Click HERE for Wednesday and Thursday's highlights, HERE for Friday and Saturday, and HERE for Sunday.
