

With Man of Steel pushed back until June 2013, and Marvel confirming the release of Iron Man 3 and THOR 2 either side, it's going to be a great year to be a fan of comic book movies. While there's still a very slim chance that one or two more heroes will also hit the big screen in just under two years time, it's these three which currently have fans counting down the days. The question now of course is which of these you guys are most excited about. Is it the return of Superman in the hands of 300 and Watchmen director Zack Snyder? How about seeing Iron Man return with new helmer Shane Black after the less than perfect Iron Man 2? And what of the God of Thunder's return after the fantastic movie released earlier this year, reportedly in the capable hands of Brian Kirk? These were the
