

On Monday, I asked you all who your favourite main villain of the summer was in a comic book movie; and now the results are in. The choices were between, Loki from The Avengers, The Lizard from The Amazing Spider-Man and Bane from Christopher Nolan's The Dark Knight Rises. But, the real battle of the poll was between The Avengers' Loki and TDKR's Bane, while The Lizard was left in the dust with only 2% of CBM fans in his favour. So, which big baddie won the proceedings with 4,125 (54%) of the total votes? Check out the full results down below!

Congratulations to Bane and The Dark Knight Rises!
