

They say there are two types of people in the world - those that have read J.R.R Tolkien's Hobbit/LOTR books, and those that have yet to. Well while chatting to MTV about his experiences filming Peter Jackson's adaptation of Tolkien's first book, Richard Armitage definitely seems to be operating under the assumption that most people fall into the first category, as he doesn't hold back on a huge spoiler. It's a fairly in depth interview so be sure to click on the link at the end to check out the whole thing. Below are some excerpts, the SPOILER lies in the second paragraph.. MTV: How was it on set with so many actors playing the dwarves? Armitage: I love it. I absolutely love working as an ensemble member, and we really are an ensemble. There's great camaraderie among all the guys. There is such a diversity of culture and background. We're working with

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsranst/news/?a=52664&t=Richard_Armitage_Discusses_Playing_Thorin_In_THE_HOBBIT_Drops_A_Major_font_color_redSPOILERfont