

December's nearly upon us and it looks like Lionsgate's upcoming Power Rangers movie has started the next step of its marketing campaign with a Twitter takeover, courtesy of Rita Repulsa herself. The evil witch, played by 3x Primetime Emmy-nominee Elizabeth Banks (Pitch Perfect 3), has taken to the social media platform to release a few stunning new publicity photos of her suited up in some very Green battle armor wielding her staff that's spotlighted by a glowing Power Coin. Do these new photos confirm what's been rumored for months? That Rita is indeed the original Green Ranger? Check out the new photos below and judge for yourself:

After eons locked away... I'm FREE! I have plans for your pitiful planet. Stay tuned. #RepulsaTakesOver pic.twitter.com/RhIkWEUAXa — Power Rangers (@ThePowerRangers) November 28, 2016 Billions of people now inhabiting this earth and I'm tasked with fighting a bunch of whiny teens. Lovely. #RepulsaTakesOver pic.twitter.com/pzU8T4BCsu — Power Rangers (@ThePowerRangers) November 28, 2016 65 million years later and I'm still devastatingly attractive. 'Killin it', you

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/action/rita-repulsa-is-green-with-evil-in-these-new-promo-photos-from-power-a147118>