

According to THR Schenk will come aboard the movie which still has director Jose Padilha attached. The two had been working together on action thriller Tri-Border. MGM have been working on getting a remake (reboot, re-imagining - whatever word they want to use) of Robocop off the ground for years now but we haven't heard too much about it since Padila was said to have taken the director's chair. Apparently they hope to shoot the movie in the Summer although no actor has been cast in the lead role yet. Here is what Padilha had to say about the movie previously.. Wars in the future are going to be fought with drones. We won't send a plane with a pilot in, it will be drone. It's getting that way now and ten years from now that's how wars are going to be fought. But what if a drone goes wrong – who is

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=53842&t=ROBOCOP_Remake_Gets_A_New_Writer