

A new official still from The Dark Tower has found its way online, and it's a pretty damn cool one. The pic features Idris Elba's Roland Deschain burning a hole through Matthew McConaughey's evil Man in Black, AKA Walter O'Dim, AKA Randall Flagg, AKA... ah you get the idea - the dude's got a lot of names. The villain doesn't look particularly worried here, but he probably should be. We're not sure where the image originated, but we picked it up via BirthMoviesDeath. Hopefully this is a sign that promotion for the film is about to kick up a notch.

Also starring Jackie Earle Haley, Fran Kranz, Kathryn Winnick, and Abby Lee (among others), The Dark Tower is currently set to be released on February 17th, 2017.
