

The already stellar cast of Shane Black's The Predator just got even more impressive with the addition of 10-year-old Jacob Tremblay, who wowed us all with his performance in Room alongside Brie Larson. According to THR, Tremblay will be playing the son of the lead character (Logan's Boyd Holbrook), who is "autistic and bullied in school but becomes a key player in the fight due to his preternatural ability to learn languages." The trade also provides a few more plot hints, as it mentions that Holbrook's ex-marine is the one that discovers the existence of the "fierce aliens", and nobody believes him at first. The Predator will also star Trevante Rhodes, Olivia Munn, Keegan-Michael Key, Sterling K. Brown and Thomas Jane. The movie is currently set for release on February 9th, 2018.

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/sci-fi/room-breakout-jacob-tremblay-is-the-latest-to-join-the-cast-of-shane-a148454>