

I only picked up four of DC's new 52 this week and out of those Suicide Squad was by far the best. If you don't know the story behind this group it was put together as a Government hit squad (officially known as Task Force X) made up of super villains who could earn their freedom if they completed enough missions. Unfortunately life expectancy isn't very high in the squad, hence the nic-name, and when your partners are all ruthless, cold blooded killers it can also be hard to count on them. There have been numerous incarnations of the team over the years, with some characters stepping in for one mission (such as Batman) and many dying and needing to be replaced. This version of the team has only one original Squad member in Deadshot with King Shark another group regular. They are joined by Harley Quinn, Black Spider, Savant, El

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=46456&t=Ror_Reviews_iSuicide_Squadi_1