

"Fist Ass!". "This will be the worst CBM ever made!" "Fuck Fox, bullshit, arghhhhh!" Etc etc.(just check out some of the comments in this Editorial :) Now of course, the benefit of hindsight is great thing. But my problem with these type of comments from these type of people has always, and will always be that they simply refuse to give some things a chance. First Class was a Fox X-men movie, it bastardized the "real" comics First Class team and came up with it's own version of the origin of the team. And that was all some people needed to write it off as a bad movie. Well, many others recognized that this "travesty" also had a great director, a great cast, and a pretty good team of writers. Guess who turned out to be right? Straight up, X-Men: First Class is a great movie. Great adaptation? No, because it

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=38467&t=Ror\_Reviews\_iX-Men\_First\_Classi