

Are you one of the many, MANY fans who have been hoping for star of the original Batman television series Adam West, to make an appearance in Christopher Nolan's current Batman franchise? Well you just might be in luck. Recent reports from Twitter suggest that it might be a possibility. These reports/sightings have placed Adam West in the same vicinity of several current filming locations for The Dark Knight Rises. Now be sure to note that these are just sightings of Adam West, no one (So far) has spotted the actor on set, or talking/meeting with anyone involved with filming. So for now it could be possible (and likely) that Mr. West is just on vacation in the same area that The Dark Knight Rises is filming. Although it certainly is quite the coincidence if we are to believe these sightings. (link) (link) Be sure to Confirm or Debunk this rumor by clicking the thumbs
