

The actress behind the catsuit-wearing Russian spy 'Natasha Romanoff' of Marvel's The Avengers movie, Scarlett Johansson, recently shared with News.com.au her relief for essentially wrapping the highly-anticipated movie. Seemingly due not only to the slim-demanding 'Black Widow' catsuit, but life in general, read the excerpt below. "I'm done with red hair. It's so much upkeep. I don't want to be in the salon any more. I hate sitting there, the smell, the cape." The star is also happy to hang up the catsuit - not just the garment itself, but the hard work that went into looking good in it. "I hate having to be so disciplined, and I don't like to be told to do anything," she says. "Not that everyone's telling me what to do; they just expect me to arrive on set and not be fat." "I exercise and eat well. I do it so I can indulge every now

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=51005&t=Scarlett Johansson Happy To Hang Up Black Widow Catsuit In THE AVENGERS