

After only one day of being released in the US, Scarlett Johansson seems eager to slip back into her superhero tight Black Widow costume while discussing the potential for her own spin-off. She talked about what needs to be done to make it happen and how fans would be able to watch Natasha Romanoff evolve into the Black Widow: "I love her origin story. I think it's just such a riveting one... It's just steeped in history and the richness to shoot in Russia, perhaps. ... I hope that the fans' voice is loud enough and they want to see a Widow origin story, I know Marvel would be happy to entertain that. We've spoken a lot about it." She also goes on to talk about how much Natasha has been filled out since Iron Man 2: "[In Avengers] you see a little bit about how Natasha joined and it's not that she's fighting for
