

In a lengthy interview with The Wall Street Journal, Damon Lindelof has talked in great detail about his pivotal role in creating the incredible viral videos for Prometheus which were released online ahead of the release of the film. As well as his comments, below are all three of the viral videos mentioned for you to check out in case you missed them the first time ("David 8" in particular is well worth watching). To read my 5* review of Prometheus, click HERE and be sure to click on the link at the bottom of the page in order to read the interview in full. On Coming Up With The Idea Of A Viral Campaign For Prometheus: I was working on the script and the story with Ridley directly and this guy Michael Ellenberg who is a producer on the movie. Ridley was aware of "Lost" but Michael was a watcher of

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=65135>