

There have been some major questions about CW's newest superhero venture Arrow after the let down that was the Smallville finale. The series pilot debuted last night at San Diego Comic Con and fans leaving the premiere told EW that they loved it. "I really liked it; it had really good production values," said fan Jamie. Gabriel who watched the pilot with Jamie added, "It was really cool; it really kept you into it." Carrissa also caught the show and said that she doesn't normally watch a lot of TV but she would definitely be tuning in to check Arrow out when it premieres later this Fall on the CW. One fan even went as far as comparing the show to Smallville only "Darker". The only negative about the episode came from a fan named Shelby who said it was action packed but felt a bit cheesy at times. EW also gave

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=63603>