

At the DC Nation panel, new footage for the upcoming episodes of Young Justice was shown in a sizzle reel which has officially made it's way online. When we last left Young Justice before the hiatus, Artemis faked her death to work undercover with Aqualad against The Light. The following video contains footage of new heroes and villains that will be introduced in the series. The end of the video may reveal The Light's mystery partner, so stay away from that if you don't want to be spoiled. The return date for Young Justice is still unknown at this point, but we should expect to see it soon. Green Lantern: The Animated Series has received much love from fans. In the next season, be prepared to meet Ch'p, Guy Gardner, The Anit-Monitor and more! Check out 5 minutes of footage featuring Guy himself, Ch'p and Hal's first encounter and Tomar-Re's debut.
