

Nothing too exciting here for us comic book fans, although plenty of tastes are covered thanks to panels featuring everything from Charlie's Angels to Chuck and The Simpsons. There are however a couple of highlights, which I've pointed out below. Perhaps most interesting is the promise of announcements and previews from Marvel's TV division, and confirmation that THOR's Chris Hemsworth will be at Comic Con...at the Snow White and the Huntsmen panel. There are also a few other CBM related panels with the creative talent behind the likes of Captain America: The First Avenger and Green Lantern. Saturday, July 23 10:00-11:30 Activision Legends from across the Marvel landscape and the entertainment industry come together in one epic panel to discuss their roles in upcoming Activision Marvel video games X-Men Destiny and Spider-Man: Edge of Time. Comic book legend Stan Lee reflects upon the latest adventures of his creations with famed Marvel writer Peter

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=41350&t=SDCC_Saturday_Schedule_Promises_Marvel_TV_Surprises_Chris_Hemsworth_Confirmed_To_Appear