

Thanks to Comic Book Resources, we have this detailed rundown of what director Shane Black had to say about helming 2013's Iron Man 3. There are a few comments which I'm sure many of you won't like all that much, although he does seem fairly enthusiastic about working on the project. Personally, I'm not too keen on what he seems to be planning for the movie, while the fact he was seemingly handpicked by Robert Downey Jr. is a little disconcerting as the last creative decision the actor made was getting Justin Theroux to pen the script for the underwhelming Iron Man 2! Anyway, here are a few highlights from the site, while you can read it in full by clicking on the link below. Switching to "Iron Man 3," Black admitted that ten years ago he would not have believed Marvel would ever make a movie about Iron Man, precisely because

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=49135&t=Shane Black Calls Mandarin A Racist Caricature Confirms Return Of Actors For Iron Man 3