

Marvel's The Avengers is breaking a lot of records at the moment, but that doesn't mean that other projects are on hold. The next Iron Man installment helmed by Shane Black will be starting production very soon in Wilmington, North Carolina. Apparently Kingsley's role is still under development, and the british actor furthermore revealed that he will first be staring in another film, before he fully commits to Iron Man 3. "I'm filming 'Ender's Game' in New Orleans right now and then I go onto a film called 'The Physician,' which is a beautiful film about a physician and then I go into 'Iron Man,'" "Quite soon I'll be with everybody and we'll be discussing the look and the feel and the direction of the character. It's very early days yet, but I'm so thrilled to be on board." Iron Man 3 will be written and directed by Shane Black, and is

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/CoastToCoastStation/news/?a=59261>