

Click Image For Complete Rules Top Cow Productions, Inc. has announced a talent search today, in which they are looking to hire two writers and two artists that will create paid work for them in 2013/2014. The deadline for the talent hunt is December 31, 2012. "The goal of the Talent Hunt is to find two previously UNPUBLISHED writers and artists and give them a chance to expose their work to the comic industry in the printed and digital formats," said Top Cow President, C.O.O. and contest judge, Matt Hawkins "The comics industry is an awesome one to work in...both Marc Silvestri and I thought about this and realized that at some point someone gave us a chance. We're looking to do the same for a few people. 4 people may not seem like a lot but we don't actually publish that many books so it is a LOT for us." You must ONLY
