

Although it's highly likely, we don't know for certain if there will be a fourth Transformers movie or if Michael Bay will take the reigns. But one man who hopes he will is Steven Spielberg who executive produced the previous 3 installments.. I hope so, because I think he made the best of the three with this last one. I certainly can't imagine anybody other than Michael being equipped to make another Transformers. He's invented a genre and he's got the secret formula. I'm not sure it's accurate to say Bay invented mediocre sci-fi action movies, but he certainly made the most money in history from them. Anyway It was recently revealed that Spielberg and George Lucas had a bit of a barny over the use of aliens (sorry guys, "inter-dimensional beings") in the last Indy flick; Kingdom Of The Crystal Skull. Here Spielberg addresses that, while defending the movie at the same

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=50616&t=Spielberg\_Wants\_Bay\_For\_TRANSFORMERS\_4\_Updates\_On\_INDIANA\_JONES\_5