

So, it turns out Jeffrey Mace isn't an Inhuman after all. The Director simply takes a type of cocktail derived from Mr Hyde's (Daisy's father) formula that gives him limited super-strength, and was actually planted as the new S.H.I.E.L.D. head by Talbot and his superiors. Though Mace will stay on as the public face of the division, Coulson is once again calling the shots. Squee! The promo for next week's episode teases some growing tension between Fitz and Simmons, as well as May Vs. AIDA round 2. Check it out below and let us know what you thought of "The Patriot" in the usual place.
