

I heard Arnold Schwarzenegger was going to return to the big screen, but a comic book superhero? The Governor! An animated series! Oh boy, gots to love the comic books. And none other than comic book legend..Stan Lee helming the project. Here's the report from entertainment weekly's interview with Stan Lee, with details on the Governor plotline a semi-fictional character. The Governor will be hitting the TV and comic book racks sometime next year. From EW: "The Governor is going to be a great superhero, but he'll also be Arnold Schwarzenegger," Lee says of the semi-fictional character. "We're using all the personal elements of Arnold's life. We're using his wife [Maria Shriver]. We're using his kids. We're using the fact that he used to be governor. Only after he leaves the governor's office, Arnold decides to become a crime fighter and builds a secret high-tech crime-fighting center under

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/cigarettebreathmoviehater/news/?a=34209&t=IStan_Lees_GovernorI_starring_Arnold_Schwarzenegger