

Glenn Beck took a break from railing against his political annoyances to turn his ire against one George Lucas. The director's constant tinkering (or butchering depending on your POV) of his much loved Star Wars movies has been met with backlash for years now, but his decision to re-release his already highly maligned prequel trilogy in 3D has left many either completely speechless or fit to burst. I guess Mr Beck falls into the latter category.. If you don't fancy watching the vid, here are a few quotes from Beck.. "Here's an idea, why don't the people at your little ranch, why don't they use all the CGI to make you go away -- with all your influence. You're wrecking good movies. I don't know how he does it. Is that the Industrial Light and Magic you're always talking about, George? You can take somebody like Natalie Portman and all of

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=54661&t=STAR_WARS_Glenn_Beck_Is_Not_A_George_Lucas_Fan_Says_He_Should_Be_Tried_For_Movie_Crimes