

MCU HISTORY During the 1930's, a Dr. Abraham Erskine works in a German university doing research into the serum. However in 1935, the Jewish doctor left his work in an attempt to escape Germany to avoid the racist Nazi laws but HYDRA (Nazi special weapons division) leader Johann Schmidt, who took an interest in Erskine's work, intercepts the scientist on the German/Swiss border on September 14th. 5 years later in the Beverian Alps, Schmidt takes part in an test involving Erskine and his Super Soldier Serum which turns Schmidt into what would become known as the Red Skull. Erskine is rescued by Agent Thirteen (Peggy Carter) and brought into the US Secret Science Reserve as part of the Project Rebirth program along with Howard Stark to produce America's own Super-Soldier. After a long search for the perfect subject, the frail Steve Rogers is found and transformed into the perfect human specimen; becoming Captain America.
