

Video games. You may spend a lot of time on them or know somebody who does. They are a fine way to avoid the harsh realities like the current election cycle or avoid terrible television. Many psychologists have also pointed out the numerous benefits of video gaming like the ability to track multiple things subconsciously and enhanced spacial and reasoning skills. I've seen those reasoning skills at work as you guys relentlessly defend or assault different comic-related properties! That being said, wouldn't it be nice to add some personality to a Next-Gen system in your life? Whether you have a Playstation 4 or an Xbox One, SuperheroStuff has a ton of brand new console skins for both DC and Marvel! What is a console skin you might ask...well it is an awesome way to inject some color on that otherwise standard issue video game console. These console skins come with an array of decals that cover the edges and surfaces of your

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/avengers/superherostuff-xbox-one-and-playstation-4-console-skins-a145925>