

Off the heels of confirmation of Warner Bros. shooting Superman: Man Of Steel partially in "Chi-Town" Chicago, a recent issue of Production Weekly reveals what seems to be to be the working title used to intentionally disguise the project during the process of filming. The production update lists: "Superman - The Man Of Steel" (aka "Autumn Frost") While Warner Bros. set the working title "Magnus Rex" for Christopher Nolan's The Dark Knight Rises, Director Zack Snyder will begin Supes' production near-August. And so far starring Henry Cavill, Diane Lane and Kevin Costner, Superman: Man Of Steel is slated for theaters mid-December, next year! Also, check out the latest fan-art from Hobo95 of DeviantArt, whose fan-made Thor poster recognizably inspired an official one. Hes now created a descent look at Henry Cavill suited up, pictured right, go Here for the full resolution.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=33928&t=iSuperman_Man_Of_Steeli_Working_Title_Revealed