

The CW has yet to release a description for "Adventures in Babysitting", but the following promo aired after the conclusion of "Death's Door" last night. It doesn't reveal too much about the direction of the season in its second half, but there should be enough to keep fans of the show guessing over the course of what is sure to be a long month of waiting. Supernatural returns to the CW on January 6, 2012. Check out the promo below and sound off with your thoughts in the usual place. Sam and Dean reeled from the betrayal by their friend — and raced to stop the angel and demon before they opened that dangerous, otherworldly door. Now, in season seven, the Winchesters will find themselves in an increasingly sinister, changing landscape, up against a new foe unlike anything they've ever fought. They'll find their old tricks, weapons and hiding places all

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=50634&t=SUPERNATURAL_S7_E11_Promo_Adventures_In_Babysitting