

Walter Hill directing, Sylvester Stallone, Jason Momoa, Sung Kang, the lovely Sarah Shahi and Christian Slater starring. Sounds like a pretty good action movie if you ask me, however, Warner Bros. has pulled the movie from it's release list, signaling that the studio may not like what they've seen from their graphic novel adaption. A new date has yet to be announced so, the exact opposite could also be true and Warner Bros. could be rescheduling the movie to release on a more desirable date. If the movie is pushed to September or February, then it's most likely bad. If it's moved to May, June, or July then the studio thinks it's good. Stay tuned to CBM, we'll let you know the new release date as soon as we find out. Bullet to the Head is an upcoming 2012 action film, directed by Walter Hill based upon Alexis Nolent's French
