

Ifans take on Connors: "Connors is fascinating, because he isn't strictly a bad-ass villain," said Rhys Ifans. "He's a good guy that wants to do good things and serve humanity and I was interested by his moral and ethical dilemma as to how his apply his scientific discoveries." Emma Stone on The Lizard scene where she's hiding in the closet: "I was in the closet and The Lizard is talking to me when I'm hiding, and the actual lines for the Lizard are, like, 'I can smell your perfume' and they were playing over the loud speaker for me. But I asked Rhys to record something that would just really, truly terrify me. Not as Gwen, but me as Emma. He said some horrifying, horrifying things. It was awful, and he was so incredible to do it, but everyone on set was like, 'I'm going to have nightmares.' It was like being in a horror

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=62051>