

That last pic is apparently Cotillard, but I can't tell from that shot, can you? Anyway, I realize there is nothing terribly exciting about members of a cast turning up to shoot the movie they are in, especially as they are not in character, but it is the first time these guys have been snapped so I figured they were worth posting given it's a fairly slow news day. Be sure to head over to the FB page to give the guys some props. By TwitterButtons.com
