

Every year, about this time, we always here about which television series may or may not be coming back for another season. Some of them are freshman series and some are veteran shows with proven tack record. TV Guide has put together a list of shows that are skating on thin ice and may be headed for the chopping block. Their list consists of 25 shows, but I've pulled out a few that some of us geeks and fans may be upset to see go. Chaos (CBS) Starring Eric Close, James Murray, Kurtwood Smith, Freddie Rodriguez, Tim Blake Nelson Despite its great and watchable cast, this series never took hold with fans. It's "lighter" tone is both good and bad in that it offers up something different for the CBS core audience, but that is also the problem for this series. Chuck (NBC) Starring Zachery Levi, Yvonne Strahovski, Adam Baldwin, Ryan McPartlin, Sarah Lancaster, Scott Krinsky This
